A Derivational Syntax For Information Structure Oxford Studies In Theoretical Linguistics

a derivational syntax for information structure - a derivational syntax for information structure luis lopez 1. 3 great clarendon street, oxford ox2 6dp oxford university press is a department of the university of oxford. it furthers the university's objective of excellence in research, scholarship, and education by publishing worldwide in mr boskovic-messick derivational economy in syntax and ... - 2. derivational economy in syntax consider first the former, as it applies to movement. it has led to the last resort nature of movement: in line with the leading idea of economy, movement must happen for a reason. one such driving force may be provided by case. consider (1). (1) jane is likely t to leave pronouns in a derivational syntax - sol - pronouns in a derivational syntax 5 (9) mary saw that she kissed john. zwart gives several reasons why coreference of mary and her is the preferred interpretation (2002:288-290). one of the reasons is that (9) is ambiguous and there is a possibility for the complex word-formation and the morphology-syntax interface - grammar in which word syntax and phrasal syntax (which will be referred to as morphology and syntax respectively) are two distinct modules within a bigger syntactic module (cf. jackendoff 1990, 1997, 2002, ackema & neeleman 2004), as well as evidence for the generation of compounds within word syntax/morphology. a 3 derivation and representation in modern transformational ... - 3 derivation and representation in modern transformational syntax howard lasnik 0 introduction the general issue of derivational vs. representational approaches to syntax has received considerable attention throughout the history of generative gram-mar. internal to the major derivational approach, transformational grammar, the notion of derivations in linguistics (lasnik) final - the notion of derivations in linguistics: syntax howard lasnik u. of maryland (mit 1972) ... significant change - to a non-derivational approach to phrase structure. more on this momentarily.] 7 mccawley (1968) argued against the lsit derivational theory of phrase structure. one of his arguments was, roughly, that we could simplify the theory
